Personal Profile

I am a professional with extensive experience in arts and culture. I work as an actor and dance coach, specializing in teaching folk dances to young people. I am actively involved in projects focused on preserving cultural heritage and passing it on to future generations. I have experience in organizing workshops for youth projects that promote intercultural learning, contributing to young people's personal development through creative methods, and establishing communication with international partners. In addition, I am interested in literature and writing, working on poetry and screenplay projects.
